Fear Yellow Fever.
Bluefields, Nicaragua, July 16.—The American consul, Thomas P. Moffatt, has issued instructions to the American naval commanders here to observe the strictest precautions that no personal communication be held with Bluefields, on account of grave fears that yellow fever is prevalent there.

The bluff is held by the Madriz forces, and numerous deaths have recently occurred among the Madriz soldiers.

Dr. Irías, the executive delegate on the Atlantic coast, who is in charge of the Madriz expedition, and General Martínez, have made a hurried departure from the bluff, and this fact, together with the serious illness of the commanding officer, General Rivas, has given rise to the report that yellow fever has reached the camps of the Madriz army.

The steamer Venus, with Madriz troops aboard, which was reported a few days ago to have been captured by General Martínez, is now being held by the Madriz forces. The report of her capture, therefore, is erroneous, and her commander is attempting to recapture the important strategic point of Halfway Cay, which is now held by Estrada.

So far little damage has been done. General Matuy has managed to outwit General Duron, one of the Estrada leaders, and has made his escape to Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach.
Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

The bluff down the beach. A recent report stated that General Matuy had been executed by General Estrada, following a trial by court-martial, at which he was charged with betraying the Estrada cause.

General Matuy is still engaged in the vicinity of Acopya, which is garrisoned by General Vasquez, commander-in-chief of the Nicaraguan forces. Matuy reports that Vasquez has recently been reinforced by Generals Lara and Chavarria. He adds that there have been many desertions to the provisional army.

New Norway Stands Aloof.
New Orleans, La., July 16.—Masters of all Norwegian vessels in this port were notified by the consulate of Norway today that no ships flying the Norwegian flag would be allowed to enter the port of Bluefields, Nicaragua, except where the owner assumed all risks.

The instructions from the Norwegian government were interpreted as meaning that Norway will not attempt to protect her citizens undertaking hazardous journeys to that port. Since the opening of the revolution in Nicaragua, the fruit ships plying between American Gulf ports and Nicaragua have played a conspicuous part in transporting men and munitions of war to both the Madriz and Estrada factions. Nearly all of these vessels fly the Norwegian flag.

Scotland Yard today advertised in papers throughout the United Kingdom and on the Continent in "per sonals" addressed to Ethel Clara Le Neve, the stenographer companion of the fugitive doctor, urging the girl to betray him to the police. They hope that she will aid them in retrieving the blunder of allowing the doctor his liberty upon "honour," after he had told conflicting stories about the disappearance of his wife.

Case Not Complete.
The work in London is along several lines. The case against the physician has no end, for no real identification has not proven beyond all doubt that the body found is that of Mrs. Crippen. It is so far destroyed that it is impossible to identify it. It will be absolutely necessary to prove identity before any case can be established. This branch of the work is being handled by the police.

A second line of search is for the man who sold the quicklime. That will assist in the fixing of the first requisite of identity. A third is a hunt for the jewels of the dead woman. It is known by Scotland Yard that Dr. Crippen carried with him a small box containing a diamond ring, which he had used as a pawn or as a bribe for bodies other than the one found. Not a sign of another corpse was discovered, the police say.

One fact that leads to the hope that Dr. Crippen cannot be very far away or remain in seclusion very long is the discovery that he had only $350 in cash when he and his companion disappeared on Saturday last. It is believed that he took along a number of his wife's gems, but the police think him too smart to try to pawn or dispose of any of these for a long time to come.

Chims She Married Him.
London, July 16.—The newest development of the Crippen mystery is a declaration of the girl chums of Miss Le Neve, that she claims that she married Crippen.

Lida Rose, a lifelong chum, today said that just before Christmas, Miss Le Neve showed her a diamond ring with four stones, stating she was engaged.

A fortnight before Easter," said Miss Rose, "I received a letter saying, 'Dear L.—You will be very much surprised to hear that your old chum was quietly married Saturday.' The letter was signed 'Lida Rose,' and it said that they were getting married at Easter, when they intended honeymooning at Dieppe."

"March 25 I received a postcard from Dieppe, saying: 'Darling, we arrived safely, and had a splendid journey across. Love L.'"

"When she returned she invited me to her house."

The physicians examining the body found in the Crippen cellar are not yet through with their work, and the investigation has been postponed until tomorrow. The police are satisfied that the body is that of Mrs. Crippen.

Perpignan, France, July 16.—A dynamite explosion today killed three and fatally injured five other workmen employed in the construction of the trans-Europe tunnel.

before he had seen the evidence. He criticized the Virginians, but not the colored soldier.

In spite of this tendency, it was with some surprise that it was learned in Virginia that the summary court had been proceeded with minus the witnesses for the prosecution. The prisoner evidently had his own way, say the local officers. Their written evidence was discarded in favor of his.

Feeling among the local officers and men over the matter is bitter in the extreme. Their orders disregarded and defied, their lives threatened while on duty, their written statements disbelieved and discounted, they are in no mood to regard very highly the service in the National Guard, which Congress has been laboring so patiently and with great expense during the past few years to build up.

HUNT FOR CRIPPEN NOW WORLD-WIDE

Wife-Murderer Is Still Eluding Best Efforts of Detectives.

ALL VESSELS SEARCHED

Authorities Convinced That He Cannot Remain Long in Hiding.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, July 16.—The search for Dr. Crippen, the American physician accused of the murder in London last February of his wife, Bella Elmore, an American concert hall singer, is now literally world-wide. The police of every country to which Crippen and Ethel Clara Neve, or Le Neve, the young typist, may have fled, were put on the lookout for the pair.

Every port for which British ships or French ships sailed on July 9 or thereafter began to search incoming vessels, armed with accurate descriptions of the man and the woman.

A large force in the port of New York, accompanied by Mrs. Robert H. Mills, stenographer of Bella Elmore, looked over the passengers of the Lorraine and the St. Paul, which arrived today. Ships that sailed for Mediterranean ports, for the Azores and for the nearer West Indian islands were likewise gone over. The wireless message was sent broadcast to the farthest seas for all British commanders.

"Look for the little man, with the bald head, gray eyes, soft-spoken manner—wanted for murder by Scotland Yard."

Word was received to-night by wireless from Commander Cannons, of the steamship Minnetonka, bound toward New York, that in one of his boats he saw the description of the fugitives.

Suspect Examined.
One passenger on the Meride closely resembled the doctor, and when he ordered his baggage sent to an address in Thirty-eighth Street, which the detectives said was once occupied by Dr. Crippen, he was led aside and closely questioned. But this man soon convinced the authorities of his identity, and was allowed to depart.

Cable dispatches from London to-night stated the belief that Crippen and the young woman are still in England, hiding somewhere in the vicinity of London. The chief of Scotland Yard hazarded the prophecy that they would be apprehended within forty-eight hours.

Ethel Clara Le Neve, it developed today, is not a Frenchwoman, but an English girl of the name of Neave. She adopted the French name at the request of the physician, whose most trusted employee she was. The father of the young woman today, in London, expressed the belief that his daughter had also been murdered. He said she had been in constant fear of her employer, and had often told him of.

Scotland Yard today advertised in papers throughout the United Kingdom and on the Continent in "personals" addressed to Ethel Clara Le Neve, the stenographer companion of the fugitive doctor, urging the girl to betray him to the police. They hope that she will aid them in retrieving the blunder of allowing the doctor his liberty upon "honour," after he had told conflicting stories about the disappearance of his wife.
